

WARSHAFSKY, ROTTER, TARNOFF & BLOCH, S.C.

A dedication to seeking justice for individual clients and building, through cases, a safer and more humane society has driven the attorneys of Warshafsky, Rotter, Tarnoff and Bloch, S.C., to ever-greater successes year after year.

Attorneys at the firm have achieved verdicts leading to the design of safer products and automobiles, removal of dangerous drugs and pharmaceuticals from the market, exposure of incompetent health care providers and the recompense of consumers cheated by fraudulent security transactions.

The firm was founded on the principles of representing and guiding ordinary citizens through the court system. The firm continues to work for the betterment of the community through pro-bono work, the formation of a charitable foundation that distributes scholarships to needy, deserving young people in Milwaukee, and supporting groups like the Milwaukee Athletes Against

A PASSION FOR CLIENTS AND COMMUNITY.

Childhood Cancer, the League of Martin, the Southern Poverty Law Center and the Trial Lawyers for Public Justice.

Ted Warshafsky, chosen as a Super Lawyer for 2005, founded the firm on his own while working the night shift in the pressroom at American Motors (now a division of Chrysler). Warshafsky, who served in the United States Marine Corps, used the GI Bill to earn undergraduate and law degrees from the University of Wisconsin. While living in Milwaukee with his family, Warshafsky forged close ties with the growing Latino community partly because he spoke fluent Spanish. Warshafsky's young firm grew quickly and after 13 months he quit the night shift at the factory and dedicated himself full-time to the law.

The firm grew during the years, gaining attorneys like Mert Rotter, strong reliable and levelheaded, and 2005 Super Lawyer Mike Tarnoff, hired for his remarkable legal acumen. 2005 Super Lawyers Jerry Bloch, Vic Harding, Frank Crivello and Ann Jacobs, along with attorneys Werner Reis, M.D., and David Weir, also gravitated to the firm during the subsequent years.

The firm boasts 5 past presidents of Wisconsin's Academy of Lawyers, several members selected to be listed in "Best Lawyers in America," and authors of numerous texts and articles, including "The Trial Handbook for Wisconsin Lawyers," a trial textbook used by attorneys throughout the State.

The successes and the passion of the attorneys of Warshafsky, Rotter, Tarnoff and Bloch, S.C., a passion for clients and community first, fees and fame second, have forged bonds of loyalty and kinship that have kept the firm together for many years. The six Super Lawyer attorneys at the firm represent the best of the qualities that have made Warshafsky, Rotter, Tarnoff and Bloch, S.C., such a trusted and successful source of legal expertise and experience in the area.
